Content

The course aims to develop students' technical skills for independent artistic expression in knits and knitwear through independent work in experimental knitting. The course includes planning, preparing, implementing, and presenting design work from idea to garment completion for the display of knitwear and knitted fabric. The main content of the course is as follows:

- Collection development from design of the knitted material to finished product
- Aesthetic possibilities through specialisation in experimental knitting
- Introduction to the production of knitted materials on industrial knitting machines, flat knitting and circular knitting
- Sketching technology, modelling and collection development
- Presentation, and argumentation of the finished design work

Learning Outcomes

On completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. demonstrate the ability to develop new artistic expressions through technology-specific work,
2. demonstrate the ability to design and realise garment ideas and prototypes in jersey and knit on hand knitting machines,
3. demonstrate the skills and ability in developing a collection composition,
4. demonstrate judgement and approach through presentation, reflection, and argumentation of one's own and others' design work.
